WICKERSHAM, ANGRY, BODY OF AVIATOR DECLARES SENATE LOWERED IN GRAVE

Abolishment of Commerce Court "Uncalled For, Illtimed, and Partisan."

Attorney General Wickersham is both aggrieved and deeply incensed at the action of Congress in abolishing the Court. In his opinion it is the worst blow the judiciary of the country has ever experienced. He declares that such action was uncalled for and unwarranted, intimating that the men who voted and talked against the court did not know what they were

The action that abolishes the court, he said today, is purely partisan. "The Commerce Court is and has been an effective organization," he declared, "but it has had no chance to demonstrate either its ability or usefulness to the country, owing to the fact that it has only been in operation a year. If Congress had waited another year the court would have justified its creation and proven its right to existence.

With five judges of the court in ooffice being shifted to various parts of the country, the District court calendars, now crowded beyond belief with business cases, could be cleared, and the country would get 'quicker justice.' This program was being followed by Chief Justice White and the judges have

Chief Justice White and the judges have been shifted to all sections."

Mr. Wickersham does not agree with the views of Senator Bacon with respect to the court. The Attorney General says that the Senator's speech is suffileient indication that he is not conversant either with the law or the fact regarding the court. He strongly deplores, he says, the action of certain members of Congress in bringing about the resignations of the judges. Though he will not give extended expression of his views with respect to the legalizing of these enforced resignations, because he may have to fedend the Congressional action in court, the Attorney gressional action in court, the Attorney General said he believes from an off-hand view of the matter that the action

With respect to the remarks of Sen-ator Overman, the Attorney General said that they were ill timed. The judges, who have been on cross-conti-nental trips, he explained, had no al-lowance otehr than the $10-a-day sal-ary, and that they suffered a loss of these trips.

Criticism of the Commerce Court by the Interstate Commerce Commission was also ill-advised, according to the Attorney General.

UPHELD BY COURT

Mullowny Says Fans Have a Right to Be Enthusiastic

Basebalfitis, which is epidemic in Washington, was ascribed as the cause of insomnia by William O'Neil, of 3410 M street northwest, in Police Court today, and incidentally drew forth an erudite opinion from the court on the present baseball situation.

O'Neil, who works at night, and sleeps in the day, was charged with throwing several gallons of water on Louis Weinstein and several compan-ions, who gathered beneath his window ions, who gathered beneath his window this morning and engaged in a discus-sion of the Nationals' winning streak. "I couldn't sleep because they were talking baseball," O'Neil told Judge Mullowny, in explanation of why he drenched the gathering beneath his window.

"At this time," said the court, "you shouldn't be angry with any one who discusses baseball. "Five dollars or fifteen days," concluded his honor, in imposing sentence on O'Nell.

"I probably could have slept," said O'Neil, "if they had talked anything else than baseball."

PROSPECTIVE BANKS HAVE NO TROUBLE IN GETTING CAPITAL

Military Funeral for Lieut. 7th Street Savings Oversubscribed—North Capitol Shares Taken.

I No matter how many banks start here there always seems to be room for one more. Announcement was made this morning that the capital stock of the Seventh Street Savings Bank to be located at Seventh and N streets, northwest, has been oversubscribed. capital stock will be $50,000. Somerset Waters, a director of the Second National Bank, will be the first president of the new institution.

Preliminary steps were taken at a meeting of shareholders of the proposed North Capitol Bank, for the organization of that $100,000 institution. In all probability Public Printer S. B. Donnelly will head this bank as its first president.

Alice E. Malone, for nearly nine years confidential clerk for G. B. Chipman, when the latter was manager of Chapman & Co., E. F. Hutton & Co., and Harriman & Co., all leading Wall Street firms, and at present associated with Sidney Harrison in conducting the grain, stock, and cotton busniess of Carpenter, Baggott & Co., a prominent New York house, will be named as one of the directors of the bank. Miss Ma-lone stands high in Washington finan-cial and security circles, and will have the honor of being the first woman to aid in directing the destinies of a Wash-ington bank. She is thoroughly posted n financial matters, stocks, bonds, and in financial matters, stocks, bonds, and securities generally.

The following will probably constitute the first board of directors: S. B. Donnelly; Dr. D. D. Mulcahey, W. Hunter Haycock, superintendent of delivery, city postoffice; Dr. J. S. Tyree, Daniel Doody, Dr. P. S. Roy, L. E. Robey, assistant Union Station master; Frank C. Wallace, foreman of Government Printing Office; P. Frank Morgan, foreman of division, Government Printing Office; P. Easterday, O. E. Darnall, superinof division, Government Printing Office; action. Yesterday's covering and subsequent slight improvement in values eliminated the nervous shorts, and the tren today was foward further getting out of traders, more expansion of the short line and indifference to action on the part of the large institutions.

The song of 'he tpe was rather muffied; scores of stocks did not show at all, the leaders monopolized much of the limited trading, the 'Big Three' and Lehigh Valley, General Electric, Amalgamated, and Ontaria and Vestern sharing a fairly large percentage of the business, while Southern Pacific and St. Paul, with the Hill shares, did not come out often.

The result was that the blackboards whereon transactions were recorded.

NEW YORK, June 14.—It was another case of waiting, the tape moving even more slowly than on Thursday, though the prices changes occurred more frequertly. The market seemed to lose the good undertone that prevalled yesterday, rallying a little in the early hour and then going back even faster than the up turn.

Politics seems to make the market in its halt, uncertainty as to the outlook furnishing little incentive to liberal action. Yesterday's covering and subsequent alight improvement in values eliminated the nervous shorts, and the tren today was toward further getting

FIRST NATIONAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES

HOME OFFICE

Southern Building, Washington, D. C.

CAPITAL, $1,000,000 SURPLUS, $1,000,000 NOW ORGANIZING

HE First National Fire Insurance Company of the United States will have a paid-in capital of $1,000,000 and a paid-in surplus of $1,000,000, less only the necessary organization expense.

It will be owned by 2,000 citizens, residents in the States where the Company will operate. Over 1,700 of these 2,000 owners have already been selected, and the preliminary organization work will be completed prior to June 30, 1912.

Twenty-seven important General Fire Agencies have been established, which will provide the Company with One and One-half Million Dollars in premiums annually.

The members of the Organization Committee whose names appear below will constitute, with others, the Company's first Board of Directors.

Justice GEO. W. ATKINSON, Judge U. S. Court of Claims. CHARLES F. CARUSI, Attorney at Law.

Justice ASHLEY M. GOULD, Judge of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia

OF NO QUORUM IN HOUSE BOARD

District Commttiee Once More Fails to Consider Important Business.

The expected happened again today when the House District Committee were on hand or were within call of the committee room on this, the regular weekly meeting day of the com-

The eight members who were on the job were Congressmen Adair, Oldfield, O'Shaunessy, Lobeck, Redfield, Kahn, Sulloway, and Chairman ohnson. Three members of the committee, Con-

Three members of the committee, Congressmen Dyer, Anderson and de Forest, were said to be out of town. The remaining members of the committee did not respond to written and verbal requests of Chairman ohnson to attend today's session.

-After waiting until the hour for convening the House approached, Mr. Johnson and his colleagues who were present gave up their hopeless task for assembling a quorum, and filed out of the committee room.

The failure of the District Committee committee room.

The failure of the District Committee to obtain a quorum today practically puts over until July all District legislation now awaiting action at the hands of the committee. Owing to the Chicago convention and the consequent exodus from Washington of many members, it will be next to impossible to obtain a puorum next Friday. The same reasoning applies to the Friday following, when the Democratic convention will be in session at Baltimore, as it is genbe in session at Baltimore, as it is generally conceded there probably will not be 100 members of the House, all told, who will remain in Washington during who will remain in Washington during the next two weeks.

The lack of a quarum today once more prevented consideration by the District Committee of such important legislation as the Jones-Works liquor bill, the universal transfer bill, the public utilities measure, and bill affecting the price of gas in the District.

Are those that do not fluctuate during dis-turbed conditions of the money or stock mar-kets. First deed of trust notes (first mort-gages), well secured on real estate in the District of Columbia, constitute "gilt-edge" investments. They do not depend upon the financial responsibility of individuals or cor-porations for their stability, and are exempt from taxation as personal property. We can supply such investments in amounts from 1500 upward. Send for booklet, "Concerning Loans and Investments."
